

Godsgift Chinemelum Dada (née Iwendi) Bio

Godsgift Chinemelum Dada (née Iwendi) is a pharmacist and global health advocate with over three years of experience in pharmacy education, workforce development, and professional leadership. She is currently pursuing a Master's degree in International Affairs and Diplomacy, strengthening her engagement at the intersection of health and policy.

Within the International Pharmaceutical Federation Early Career Pharmaceutical Group (FIP ECPG), Godsgift has served in strategic leadership roles, including Professional Development Coordinator and Chairperson of Projects 2025, contributing to global professional development initiatives and international congress engagements.

As ECPG–FIP Foundation Liaison, she is committed to strengthening collaboration that supports leadership growth and professional opportunities for early career pharmacists, pharmaceutical scientists and educators worldwide.

A certified data analyst and passionate people-builder (through the Pharmacy Platform Initiative), she is dedicated to advancing sustainable pharmacy practice and empowering young professionals globally.
